

Maurizio Memo

Present: Full Professor of Pharmacology at the University of Brescia Medical School.
1996 Visiting Fellow at the Burke Institute, White Plains, Cornell University, New York
1988, Associate Professor of Neuropharmacology, University of Brescia;
1988-90, Visiting Associate Professor of Pharmacology, Georgetown University, Washington DC, USA;
1980-82, Research Fellow at the National Heart Lung and Blood Institute, NIH, Bethesda MD, USA;

Founder and President of the Italian Group of Molecular Neurobiology.

Winner of the Roussel Award 1987 for brain aging studies.

Winner of the Sandoz Gerontological Foundation Prize, 1996.

Author of more than 200 full scientific papers all published in recognized international Journals.

Principal Investigator of several research project sponsored by national and international Institutions and supervisor of a research group including 12 post-doc.s, PhD students and technicians.

Main interest: neuropharmacology, role of Dopamine systems in schizophrenia and Parkinson's disease, molecular mechanisms of neurodegeneration, genetic and molecular risk factors for Alzheimer's disease.